Penguin & Peep are best friends seeking the perfect day together, but when a perfect day for Penguin is sorting ice cubes, and the perfect day for Peep is dancing in the sun, how can they ever get along? Come play with Penguin & Peep as they find fun together every day despite themselves!

Penguin

Penguin likes his home in the zoo, and usually needs a little help to go outside his comfort zone. Trying new things often scares him, but Peep helps him find the fun in being adventurous. As long as Peep is with him, he'll face all his fears.

Peep

Peep loves all things bright and happy. She is always seeking a new adventure, but never alone. Penguin is her best friend and she loves it when he explores with her. She's likely to get into trouble, always jumping into something before thinking, so it's a good thing Penguin's there to help her out.

Episodes:

1. Faster than a Sloth on a Skateboard

Penguin & Peep want to race, but Penguin thinks Peep is cheating by flying instead of running. To make it fair, they decide to race while riding on other animals. Which is faster, a giraffe or an ostrich? Dolphin or seal? Pairings get more and more ridiculous as they try to pick the fastest animal, but as races are won through unfair match-ups, the tension rises. Just when their friendship is about to blow up, they finally come across a pair of cheetah cubs to race on, but both get beaten by a sloth on a skateboard.

2. Sweet Treats

Penguin & Peep get their first taste of candy when they happen upon some crumbs, and instantly must have more! Obsessed, they turn from sharing to fighting over every little crumb they find, until in front of them stands the zoo's candy cart in all its glory. Peep rushes to grab some, but Penguin stops her when he notices a kid paying for a candy bar with two coins and a dollar. He convinces Peep they must pay for the candy. Together they find a bottle cap and a button, and Penguin gives up one of his beloved stinky fish to leave in trade for one whole tasty treat big enough to share!

3. Peep's Flying Lesson

It's a beautiful spring day and Peep is having a blast flying in the clear air. When she sees Penguin missing out on the fun of flying, she decides to teach him how so he can join in. He's a bird after all, how hard can it be? Very hard. But, with the help of Peep's flock supporting him and a bunch of balloons, even Penguin can have a bird's eye view of the world from the skies!
